FOOD WORKERS WEEK

NOVEMBER 18-24, 2012

In the U.S., close to 20 million people work in the food system, joining millions more around the world. A majority of them are paid poverty wages, and many can barely afford to buy enough healthy food to feed themselves and their family. The Food Chain Workers Alliance (FCWA) is launching the annual International Food Workers Week this year to bring more awareness to the issues facing food workers and their organizing efforts for sustainable jobs in a sustainable food system. Take part in activities and events on this first International Food Workers Week.
